Testimonials

Adél is an exceptional artist and maker in terms of her wide range of high-level skills (software and analogue), her rigorous work ethic, and above all her creative aptitude. She challenged herself to achieve at the highest level and demonstrated the capacity to improve and refine to realise a fully achieved outcome.

Peter Dukes, Principal Lecturer/ University of Westminster

As an illustrator, Adel is very creative, with a style all of her own. She is professional, delivering work on time and taking on board suggestions and acting on them. She is confident in her ability so where necessary will make her own suggestions, push back and make you think. She is friendly, easy to work with and clear. She adds value by giving you more than you asked for. Her creative work has a whimsy, charm and humor that is unique to Adel. I went through 3-4 video editors (all of whom were not up to standard) before asking Adel if she could edit my films. She was of course brilliant. I just wish I'd asked her first!
